Archival Collection 2

Title: Leo Levine papers, 1958-2016

Creator: Levine, Leo.

Call Number: Archival Collection 2

Quantity: 21 cubic feet (12 archives boxes, 9 flat boxes, 3 scrapbooks, 1 small archives box)

Abstract: The Leo Levine papers consists of his general research files concerning the automobile industry, competitors, drivers, vehicles, and races, as well as some files documenting his work on Ford: The Dust and the Glory. The papers also include interviews and presentations of racers, events, and racing enthusiasts; however, no index is available. Several scrapbooks contain Leo Levine's original articles in the New York Herald Tribune about sporting and racing events. The Leo Levine papers have not been processed, and are in their original order.

Language: Materials are in English.

Biography: A noted automotive historian, Leo Levine began his racing career while working as a newspaperman in Europe in the 1950s, driving for Porsche, BMW and NSU in Europe and South America before confining his efforts to the typewriter at the end of 1960. Mr. Levine was the syndicated auto writer for The New York Herald Tribune, wrote the Ford Motor Company racing history Ford: The Dust and the Glory, and he has been a contributing editor for a number of magazines. He was the general manager of public relations for Mercedes-Benz of North America from 1969 to 1988, the period of that marque's greatest growth on this continent.

Scope and Content Note: The Leo Levine papers have not been processed, and are in their original order. To make it easier to find information, the finding aid includes series 1 (Research Files) in an alphabetical sort order, and in their original order.

The Leo Levine papers are organized into four series and several additional accessions:

Series 1 (Research Files): Most of the collection is in series 1, which are Levine's research files on a variety of topics. The files were left in Levine's original folder order and include Levine's documentation of competitors, drivers, vehicles, and races. Of special note is 1955 Chevrolet print advertisement, "Don't Argue with this Baby!" (box 16) because it was GM's first official reaction to the Ford mid-1950s performance campaign. The 1962 Mercedes-Benz market study (box 16) reflects how sensitive Germans were to branding and logos following World War 2.

Accession 2016-014 (Revsat 122741) is a poster "IV Gran Primo Argentino Neuer NSU Prinz Seig." The vehicle in the poster belonged to Leo Levine. Also includes a plaque given to Levine by his mechanics consisting of pieces of engine fins broken off by a rock.

Accession 2016-018 (Revsat 122785) consists of a letter from Alfonso de Portago in response to a previous letter from Ken Purdy. Handwritten notation ("May 3rd, 1957") and typed notation are by Purdy. Alfonso de Portago was killed in the Mille Miglia a week later.

Accession 2016-020 (Revscat 122857) is a Voiture 43 pit sign from the 24 Hours of Le Mans. It was used in the empty race stall that was supposed to be for car 43, an Osca MT4 1500, from Automobili Osca (drivers Giulio Cabianca and Luigi Villorosi) that did not start.

Accession 2017-021 is box 22 of the collection (audio cassettes).

Series 2 (Media Files): Consists of 35 VHS tapes, 11 compact discs (cds), 6 Zip Discs, and approx. 170 tapes and micro tapes. Most of the VHS tapes and compact discs contain published documentaries and films. Box 14 includes interviews and presentations of racers, events, and racing enthusiasts, however, no official index was provided by donor. Some names on tape include Carroll Shelby, Dan Gurney, Don Garlitz, and Mario Andretti.

Series 3 (Miscellaneous): Consists of scrapbooks that contain Leo Levine's original articles about sporting and racing events, focusing on the 1950's and 1960's. The scrapbooks include photographs, newspaper clippings, programs, brochures, and race maps. The files also contain research documents, proofs, tear sheets of Levine's articles, and personal correspondence. It also includes the files of Artur J. Kesler, a friend of Levine.

Series 4 (Photographic Prints): Consists of photographic prints of races and drivers, photographed by Levine.

Acquisition Note: The Miles C. Collier Collection acquired the Leo Levine Papers in 2012 (accession number 2012-026) and 2016 (accession 2016-17 and 2016-020).
